

About us – Gifted Greetings

Our Mission:

The smile on the faces of your loved ones is the mission that we aim to accomplish through renting yard cards to decorate your yard for your events through Gifted Greetings.

Our Story:

Let us begin with our story by introducing ourselves. So, we are Beverly and Robyn, the owners of this website, Gifted Greetings. We both are married and blessed mothers and so we know how it feels when your kids, husband, in-laws, and all other members of your family smile at the efforts that you have put in for them.

Our story starts from the individual businesses that we have been carrying out throughout our career of entrepreneurship. The businesses have been successful by the grace of God. It happened one day by luck that we met where God had decided that we will intersect on the point of creating something for you. And where our career of entrepreneurship will start a new round of partnership.

If we expose some of our life hobbies and routine so both of us are really creative from the time our childhood. We have been participating in the event managing teams for the decoration of the events. The combinations and themes that we have selected so far are being loved by everyone. Though the business, Gifted Greetings is new but not exposed to making your events successful. We are familiar with and experienced in planning yard cards for specific events.

What Forced us to make up Gifted Greetings?

Since the events of 2020 were entirely based on the celebrations at home or backyard so our children have had a lot of fun doing the small yet lovely things over there. The fun and joy of our children make us believe that a simple home yard can do a lot when it comes to happiness. That was the socket that brought us to a single plug of fashioning the Gifted Greetings. Basically, we always wanted to become a part of the public good which is possible for us only this way. This is the way we can serve our level best to give you the best. So, from doing casual efforts to make our littles happy to doing our honest efforts to making your day we are here with our yard card rentals service to serve the best of your interests.

What do we feel for Gifted Greetings?

Gifted Greetings is more than a business for us because we deal with the emotions of our clients and customize their events by making yard cards. It is actually never about the events that we are here to plan. But it is the happiness of the people you love that we help you celebrate. Small celebrations help in the strengthening of the relationships. We offer the best for you to bring an instant smile on the faces of your beloved ones.

We are definitely looking forward to receiving your messages about hiring us!
